Spruce, Norway, makes a very fine hedge for wind break.

It should be planted about 3 to 4 feet apart. It grows rapidly, reaching 75 to 100 feet, and thrives on all soils.

SUGGESTIONS FOR TRANSPLANTING.

Care of stock on arrival. Upon the arrival of a package, remove stock, wet down with water, and heal in, in mellow soil, packing dirt firmly upon roots. If soil is dry moisten well with water. Trees are then ready for planting and should be taken out only as needed, being very careful not to expose roots to sun or wind as stock so exposed is not liable to grow. In small fruit plants bunches should be opened and roots spread out when healed in.

Soil for planting should be well drained either naturally or artificially by means of tile. Prune all bruised or broken roots with a sharp knife. Trim the tree up to four or five branches suitable for forming a top; cut these branches back to within four or five buds of the body.

Planting: Make holes large so as not to crowd the roots, use surface soil for filling in and plant as firmly as possible, pressing soil well down with the feet. After planting mulch may be applied as desired. Never put manure in the hole with the roots.

Information regarding spraying will be cheerfully given upon application.

NUMBER OF TREES OR PLANTS ON AN ACRE.

The number of Trees or Plants required for an acre may be ascertained by dividing the number of square feet in an acre (43,560) by the number of square feet given each tree or plant.

For example if you desire to plant Peach Trees 16 x 16 feet would give each tree 256 square feet or 170 trees to the acre.

HANDLING AND CARE OF STOCK.

All trees and stock are very carefully handled from time of digging until shipping. Stock for Spring sales is carefully healed in in dirt and all tender kinds are put inside our cellars which are fitted for just this purpose and insure a good wintering of stock.

Our soil and climate is especially adapted for growing nursery stock, which ripens well here and goes into the winter in fine condition. We do not grow as large an amount of stock as some nurseries and are able to give the entire business our personal supervision. We aim to grow not the largest quantity but the best quality.

Those desiring a large quantity of stock should send list for special prices.
